SECTION 1 Welcome

Welcome to Birmingham City University. You are now part of one of the largest Universities in the United Kingdom that attracts students from all backgrounds from across the region, the country and the rest of the world. With 25,000 students from 80 countries, Birmingham City University is a university with an international outlook.

The University also works in partnership with other higher education institutions and organisations not only in the United Kingdom but in countries throughout the world. These partnerships provide opportunities for students to study at a centre local to them on a programme that leads to an award of the University.

You too are studying for a Birmingham City University award through one of our partnerships. Throughout this Handbook we will refer to the place where you are studying i.e. Global School of Technology and Management, as either the 'partner organisation' or as GSTM.

This Handbook is one of several important documents that you will receive during your time as a Birmingham City University student. We urge you to read this Handbook and to keep it as a reference tool for the duration of your studies.

The Faculty of Computing, Engineering and the Built Environment (CEBE)

The Faculty of Computing, Engineering and the Built Environment (CEBE, formerly the Faculty of Technology, Engineering and the Environment or TEE) is the technology department of Birmingham City University, England, covering engineering programmes. It is located in the City centre campus in the eastern half of the Millennium Point complex. Spanning five stories of the £114 million complex in the developing Eastside district, the centre offers courses in undergraduate and postgraduate education.

From September 2000, the Faculty of CEBE was previously known as the Technology Innovation Centre, but during 2008, the faculty began the process of rebranding and was temporarily known as Technology Innovation and Development until autumn 2009 when TIC was renamed to the Faculty of Technology, Engineering and the Environment.

The faculty now includes the Department of Computing which has combined with TIC's departments of software, networks, telecommunications and electronics; and the School of Property, Construction and Planning, forming four schools including School of Computing, Telecommunications and Networks (CTN); School of Digital Media Technology; School of Engineering, Design and Manufacturing Systems (EDMS); and School of Property, Construction and Planning. The rebranding coincides with the development of a new campus in the city's Eastside regeneration scheme. In 2014, the faculty was again rebranded to be the Faculty of CEBE. Together as a Faculty, we continue to broaden and strengthen our academic disciplines of computing, engineering and the Built Environment and able to respond dynamically to the multiple modern technological challenges posed by fast-paced industries. As a Faculty, our vision is to create a powerful centre of technological excellence and innovation, to educate to the highest quality in technologies and engineering and to equip students with the technical skills to contribute to the workplace as well as to the wider industry.

Birmingham School of the Built Environment (BSBE)

Birmingham School of the Built Environment is a major provider of professionally relevant courses for the property and construction industries. We are a modern, multi-disciplinary and diverse educational champion of the built environment, offering courses dedicated to the teaching of future professionals. Our core activity is educating professionals for a technical, ethical, economic, political and social world where the built and natural environment forms the context for human activity.

The success of our courses is due to our balanced approach to learning which incorporates research, scholarship and industry engagement, together with practice.

Our teaching and assessment is driven by a commitment to creating highly competent practitioners who can continue to develop not only themselves but the wider industry.

Problem solving, team work and wider appreciation are actively encouraged, with functional and procedural knowledge as a support

SECTION 2 Getting Started

Induction

Global School of Technology and Management ('GSTM') will arrange a Welcome Orientation Session which will be followed by an induction session. Attendance is compulsory for all new students. Welcome Orientation Sessions will provide you with important information about your programme including the learning, teaching and assessment methods that will be used and what will be expected of you. You will receive an introduction to your institution, the facilities and the learning resources as well as meeting the members of the teaching and support staff and your fellow students.

You will also be required to enrol as a student of GSTM as well as Birmingham City University ('the University'). In order to enrol, you will need the following:

- Original birth certificate or NRIC or passport;
- Original certificate or official results notification of all qualifications that are listed on your application form;
- Payment for your fees as stipulated in Standard Student Contract or a sponsor letter confirming payment.

As part of the enrolment process, you will be asked to complete an enrolment form. You will be asked to provide details of your legal name, home and term time addresses and all previous qualifications. Other personal details will be required for statistical purposes.

Your enrolment forms will be sent to Birmingham City University so that we can then enroll you as a student of the University. Once we have set up an electronic record for you on our database, you will be issued with a unique identification number, a Birmingham City University Network ID and password, and a personal Birmingham City University email account. This email address will be used by the University to communicate useful and official information. You will also need your password to make use of and to access the online learning facilities on the University's intranet (called iCity) and Moodle.

The amount of fees due will be recorded on your Standard Student Contract and you will be expected to pay or make arrangements to pay at enrolment. It is a condition of enrolment that you accept full responsibility for the payment of all programme fees and any other fees that you incur while registered as a student on the programme.

Campus Information

SECTION 3 Your Programme

Programme Specification

Every course offered by the University has a programme specification. A programme specification is a concise description of the knowledge, understanding and skills you should have gained on successful completion of the programme as well as information about how you will be taught and how you will be assessed (for example by written examination or coursework assignment).

The programme specification for your course can be found at www.bcu.ac.uk/courses

Programme Timetable

A timetable will be issued to you during your induction. The timetable will include your assessment deadlines.

Learning and Teaching Methods

Key concepts will be introduced through lectures and will be explored further during seminars, workshops, lectures from visiting speakers, in-class and forum debates and through self-directed/independent study. Case studies are used to explore concepts applied to real-world scenarios. Experiential learning is encouraged via project-based assignments.

Analysis, synthesis and evaluation are developed as themes throughout the programme. Information and discussion forums will be available on Moodle (see Section 5: Resources) for participants to provide a support network to complement lectures, seminars and workshops.

One of the key aspects of higher education study is self-directed/independent learning and you will be expected to undertake a lot of work outside of your timetabled lectures and seminars. Don't rely on your lecture notes for all of the information you'll need for an assessment. It is really important that you do some independent research, for example, by reading through some of the additional text books suggested by your teaching team.

Language of Delivery and Assessment

All of your programme will be taught and assessed through the medium of English. English language support sessions will be made available to any student seeking supplementary support. More information about the language support sessions is available from your Programme Director or tutor.

SECTION 4 Assessment Information

How You Will Be Assessed

A wide variety of assessment approaches are used throughout the programme. These include structured tasks, presentations, practical work, academic writing (articles, business reports and academic papers), individual or group projects and examinations. Your lecturer will issue you with assessment briefs that contain the specific details of individual assessments. The assessment briefs are changed annually and therefore cannot be published in the Handbook. More detailed information about how a particular module will be assessed can be found in the module specifications.

Assessment Regulations, Policies & Procedures

The University has a series of regulations, policies and procedures that govern your academic experience and all members of staff and all students are required to observe these during their time at the University. It is therefore important that you familiarise yourself with these regulations, policies and procedures. You can find the full set of University regulations, policies and procedures on the University intranet at: <https://icity.bcu.ac.uk/academic-registry/information-for-students/Academic-Regulations-andPolicies/SUAR-Version-5>. It is important that you familiarise yourself with the Standard Undergraduate Assessment Regulations (SUAR) that apply to your course.

The way in which your work is assessed is covered by the University's Assessment Regulations. The regulations include information about:

- modules, levels of modules and the credits which attach to them;
- requirements for passing modules;
- requirements for progression to the next level of your course;
- how to achieve an award with Commendation or Distinction and how degree classifications are calculated;
- what happens if you fail a module.

A new version of the undergraduate regulations, which is known as SUAR version 5, took effect at the start of the 2014/15 academic year. For most students, the modules at Level 6 of undergraduate courses are governed by SUAR version 5 in 2015/16. You can find the full version at SUAR version 5 (select the word document entitled Part 1 Section J5). If you are in any doubt about which version of SUAR applies to your course, please ask a member of your course team.

The course you are studying may have exemptions from the standard regulations to satisfy professional body requirements. If there are exemptions for your course, they will be described in your Course Guide for 2015/16.

If you need to be re-assessed in a module you failed in 2013/14 or 2014/15 or you had an assessment attempt deferred or a module result set aside in 2013/14 or 2014/15 special arrangements apply. Click here for details:

<https://hub.bcu.ac.uk/sites/as/Assessments%20and%20Awards/Forms/AllItems.aspx?RootFolder=%2Fsites%2Fas%2FAssessments%20and%20Awards%2FSUAR%20and%20SIMAR%20Transition%20Arrangements&FolderCTID=0x01200073CA8E46269B7E40B588F1BC1BADEF17&View=%7b2DC6CF75-5E99-469F-BAF2-CA14817F41DE%7d>

Key features of SUAR version 5

1. Number of assessment opportunities

Under SUAR version 5 you will have two assessment opportunities for each module.

If, at the first assessment attempt, you fail a module or an item of assessment in a module you will have one opportunity to be re-assessed.

If you fail the re-assessment attempt in a core module, you will be withdrawn from the course.

If you fail to submit work for re-assessment in a core module, you will fail the module and be withdrawn from the course. Please note that if there is something outside your control that is affecting your ability to complete an assessment you can ask the University for an extension or to take the assessment at a later date, by making a claim under the University's Extenuating Circumstances procedure. Click here for further information at <https://icity.bcu.ac.uk/Student-Services/Complaintsand-Appeals/Extenuating-Circumstances-Procedure>

If you fail an optional module, you can choose to substitute an alternative optional module if one is available after failure at the first attempt or failure at the re-assessment attempt. You will have two assessment attempts at the new optional module. However, if you fail the re-assessment attempt in the new module, you will be deemed to have failed and no further optional modules can be taken in its place.

2. The pass mark for a module

Under SUAR version 5 the pass mark for a module with one item of assessment is 40%. In modules where there is more than one item of assessment, a pass mark will be awarded where the overall weighted average of the marks achieved for the items of assessment is 40% or more.

The regulations for your course are the Standard Undergraduate Assessment Regulations Version 5 (SUAR 5). You'll receive information about the University's regulations from your programme team, and if your programme is governed by Standard University Regulations, you can access them along with other useful policies and procedures, on the Academic Regulations and Policies page on SharePoint. The standard assessment regulations are in sections J to O.

You may be asked for a 'user name' and 'password', which is just your University network ID and password.

Under 'user name', you'll need to type: STUDENTS\ before adding in your University network ID. Once you've added in your details, a SharePoint page will open up: Click on the 'Academic Regulations and Policies' folder to access our standard regulations.

Maximum Registration Periods

For Top-up Degrees, the maximum registration period is three years.

Extensions of registration periods require the approval of the Director of Academic Services in consultation with academic staff. When previous study is no longer current, students may be required to take current versions of the nearest equivalent modules.

Assignment Submission

You will be submitting several pieces of coursework work over the academic year and it is important that you keep the following in mind:

- Prepare your work so that your assignment is ready in advance of the submission date (see My Assignment Planner in Section 5: Resources for help with planning your assignment);
- Each assignment must be submitted with a standard cover sheet showing your name, full student number and programme of study, module title and the name of your tutor. You will be given a receipt on submission of your coursework;
- Collect several cover sheets from the office at the start of the term so you can complete one before you hand in your work;
- Ensure that your assignment is ready for submission when it is handed in i.e. the work is secured in the file and the cover sheet has been completed;
- All coursework is due by 5pm on the day of submission; any work submitted after this deadline will be regarded as a late submission and will be subject to the appropriate penalty (see below Late Submission);
- Only submit complete assignments. You cannot submit missing sections after the submission date. If you wish to add to an assignment that has been handed in and the submission date has not yet passed, you must provide a copy of your receipt. Your work will be returned and you must then resubmit it.

Extenuating Circumstances/Mitigating Circumstances and Extension to Deadline

If you can't submit an assignment or attend an exam for valid reasons beyond your control (for example, if you are ill) you can apply under the University's procedures for the consideration of exceptional circumstances for either:

- A deferral (which means that you will take the assessment at the next available opportunity); OR
- A coursework extension of 10 working days to the coursework deadline

You must make sure you submit your request, with evidence (i.e. a doctor's note if you are ill), at least 7 working days before the exam/assessment deadline. The full procedures are available on iCity at <https://icity.bcu.ac.uk/Student-Services/Complaints-and-Appeals/Extenuating-CircumstancesProcedure>

Late Submission

Students are responsible for submitting coursework on time and in the way specified in Module Guides.

Marks for assessments submitted up to 2 hours after the deadline will be reduced by one tenth. For example, a mark of 60% would be reduced to 54%. This reduction is not made if the original mark is below 40%. If the reduction creates a mark below 40%, then 40% will be awarded.

Marks for submission between two hours and 5 working days after the deadline will be capped at 40%.

If you do not have exceptional circumstances but submit your first attempt of an assessment after the published deadline, the maximum mark you can be awarded will be the pass mark for the module, provided you submit your work no more than 5 working days after the published deadline.

Work submitted more than 5 working days after the published deadline will be given a mark of zero and you will be deemed to have failed an attempt at the assessment. Where you submit a reassessment attempt after the published deadline you will be deemed to have failed the re-assessment and the coursework will be returned to you unmarked.

If you have longer term problems which you think are likely to last more than three weeks, you should ask your personal tutor whether you should apply to withdraw temporarily from the course – this is called ‘taking an interruption of studies’. Further information is available in Section 7: Frequently Asked Questions.

Re-Assessment

If you have not passed a module at the first attempt you may be eligible for re-assessment. If you do re-sit a module without extenuating circumstances, your mark will be capped at the pass mark i.e. the maximum mark that you can achieve will be the pass mark (this is usually 40%).

Students who fail modules are permitted a second attempt at each failed assessment, provided this can be completed within their maximum registration period.

Reassessments submitted after the deadline will be given a mark of zero. Students may not be reassessed on modules they have passed.

Reassessments must be attempted on the next occasion the assessment takes place unless an interruption of study has been granted. Marks for modules that include reassessments are capped at 40%. When reassessment results in a lower mark, the original mark is used.

Students who do not attend a reassessment event or miss a coursework deadline will fail the assessment unless a deferral or extension is granted.

If reassessment using the same methods as the initial assessment is not practicable, the Examination Board will make special arrangements for re-assessment.

Academic Misconduct

Academic Misconduct is often referred to as 'cheating' or 'plagiarism' and can take a variety of forms and although it may be intentional or unintentional, the University takes allegations of academic misconduct very seriously. Cheating is considered a disciplinary offence if a student attempts to gain or helps someone else to gain an unfair advantage over other students. Students who are suspected of cheating will have to attend a formal hearing to explain their case, and if found guilty of cheating the penalties can be severe, including the removal of academic credit or even your permanent expulsion from the University.

Some examples of academic misconduct are included below, but the list is not exhaustive and cheating in assessed work may take other forms:

Cheating in examinations:

- Attempting to access confidential information before an examination, including trying to get sight of the examination paper before it is published;
- Taking or attempting to take unauthorised material, including blank paper, electronic devices and mobile phones, into an examination room;
- Communicating or attempting to communicate in any way with another candidate or any other person (other than the invigilator) during an examination;
- Copying, or trying to copy, the work of another student;
- Allowing or assisting another student to copy;
- Impersonation – taking an assessment on behalf of, or pretending to be, another student, or allowing another person to take an assessment on behalf of a student;
- Attempting to remove script books, including blank script books, from an examination room.

Cheating in relation to other forms of assessed work – including:

Plagiarism: This is the submission of an item of assessment, which all or in part, contains work produced by another person (s) in such a way that it could be assumed to be the student's own work. Plagiarism also includes a lack of 'in-text' referencing. Information on avoiding plagiarism can be found on the Centre for Academic Success web pages Centre for Academic Success web pages.

Collusion: This is where there has been improper collaboration (or working together) in the production of a piece of work, which is then submitted as entirely the work of an individual. It is important to note that except where written instructions state that work for assessment may be produced jointly and submitted as the work of more than one student, (often referred to as 'group work'), students must not collaborate with other students to produce a piece of work jointly. Furthermore, students should not copy or share another student's work, lend their work to another student or allow another student to copy their work.

Falsification of data or artefacts: This is where students invent data, or change their material in order to support an argument. Examples of such behaviour include inventing false responses to questionnaires and interviews, and amending test results/figures.

Duplication: This is the submission of a piece of work in whole or in part that has already been submitted for assessment elsewhere, including concurrent submissions. To find out how you can avoid allegations of cheating, it is strongly suggested that you visit our assessment guide, available at: <https://icity.bcu.ac.uk/Academic-Registry/Information-forStudents/Assessment/Avoiding->

Allegations-of-Cheating

To help you understand how to reference correctly, please seek advice from your tutors or familiarise yourself with information on avoiding plagiarism provided by the University at: <http://library.bcu.ac.uk/learner/writingguides/1.12.htm>

Here are a few simple principles to follow to avoid allegations of cheating:

In exams:

- Don't attempt to see the paper before it is published;
- Don't ask another student for help during the exam or copy another student's work;
- Don't let another student copy your work;
- Don't take unauthorised materials into the exam room;
- Make sure you know what equipment/materials you can use in the exam (i.e. calculator) and make sure the permitted materials are clear of your additional notes and other recorded information.

In coursework:

- Don't pass off someone else's work as your own. This is plagiarism and is viewed very seriously by the University;
- Acknowledge all sources that you have used in your assignment or project. For advice on referencing contact the Centre for Academic Success;
- Use quotation marks if you are using the exact words of another person;
- Don't submit a piece of work that has already been submitted in whole or in part for an assessment elsewhere. This is called duplication and, like plagiarism, is viewed very seriously by the University;
- Check with your course team whether you can work with others on your coursework, and if so, be sure about what you should be doing on your own;
- Don't allow others to copy your work, or lend your work to other students;
- Don't make up data to prove your point.

Assessment Results and Examination Boards

At the end of your academic year and when you have completed all of your assessments, an Examination Board meeting will be held. The Board is made up of staff from your institution, the University as well as the External Examiner (see below). The purpose of the meeting is to endorse the marks awarded to assessment. It is only after the Examination Board has confirmed your marks that you will receive confirmation of your results.

Marking, Feedback and the External Examiner

When you hand in your work or sit an exam, your work will be marked as quickly as possible by the teaching team. Their marking will then be moderated within the Department or Faculty, to ensure that marks have been awarded fairly. Marking is carried out anonymously, wherever possible, so don't worry, personal feelings are never taken into account when your work is being graded. To make sure that you are assessed fairly in relation to other students on the same course and to ensure the quality and standards of our courses are comparable to similar courses in other Universities, the University employs an External Examiner. An External Examiner is a qualified subject specialist who works in a UK university other than Birmingham City University. External examiners won't be marking your work, but they will see a sample of assessed work to check the appropriateness of the standards and the marks awarded.

The External Examiner will visit your centre at least once a year and you will have the opportunity to talk to them about your experience – good and bad! - on the programme. Following the visit, the External Examiner will write a report that tells the University about the good practices at your centre and of any concerns they might have. External Examiner reports are made available to students and you can request a copy from your Programme Director. You'll get feedback on your assessments, so make sure you go and collect your work once it's been marked. Feedback is really useful as it includes the markers' constructive comments on your assessment, including aspects of your work that could be improved, and it can also provide guidance and advice for future assessments. Please note that when you collect your work, you will receive an indication of how well you have done in your assessment and you may receive a mark for the work. However, remember that the mark is only indicative and is subject to change. You will receive the final mark after the meeting of the Examination Board.

Grading criteria

Statements of grading criteria for each of the assessment criteria describe performance associated with the assessment criteria. The grading criteria are the basis upon which marks are accorded. Grading criteria for each module assessment are provided in the relevant assignment briefs.

Error in the Conduct of an Assessment or an Examination Board

If you consider that there has been an error or irregularity in an assessment, or at an examination board, you may submit a claim under the "Procedure for considering Claims of Error in the conduct of Assessment Processes". To submit a claim you should complete a form called "Academic Appeal Form" which is available on iCity at <https://icity.bcu.ac.uk/Student-Services/Complaints-and-Appeals/Academic-Queries-andAppeals->

Procedure

If you wish to make a claim, you must submit your academic appeal within 20 working days of the decision that you are questioning being published or received. If, for good reason, you cannot submit a claim within this timescale you should speak to your Tutor or Programme Director. If you are still not happy with our response to your academic appeal, you can ask for a review. You shall complete the "Academic Review Form" which is available on iCity at <https://icity.bcu.ac.uk/Student-Services/Complaints-and-Appeals/Academic-Queries-and-AppealsProcedure>. This stage should be completed within 20 working days of us receiving the request for a review and we will give you our decision in writing.

Interruption of Studies

Students may apply for permission to interrupt their studies for between 20 working days and one academic year. This requires the approval of the Director of Academic Services. See the Student Withdrawal and Interruption of Studies Policy for more details. Students who interrupt withdraw from all current modules and may not attend classes or submit work for assessment. Existing assessment marks (including failures) are carried forward when the modules are resumed. Students who fail to resume their studies at the time agreed with the University will have their registration terminated.

Programme Transfers

Students may apply to transfer between programmes. This requires the approval of the Programme Directors of both the old and new programmes, who will take account of the availability of places, admissions criteria, ability to transfer credit, maximum registration periods and timing.

Withdrawal and Termination

Students have the right to withdraw at any time. Those considering this should seek advice as soon as possible from the appropriate academic staff and student support services. See the Student Withdrawal and Interruption of Studies policy for more details. The University may terminate a student's registration due to assessment failure, failure to engage, exclusion, failure to complete re-enrolment, breach of visa conditions or breach of regulations.

After withdrawal or termination:

- students are not permitted to attend teaching sessions or take assessments;
- Library and network access are withdrawn;
- there may be a tuition fee liability.

Assessments submitted before termination or withdrawal will be considered by Examination Boards in the normal way and may contribute to the granting of an Exit Award.

Classification of Honours Degrees

Classification of Mark	Honours Classification
First Class	70% or above
Second Class Honours Division I	60 – 69 %
Second Class Honours Division II	50 – 59%
Third Class	40 – 49%

Certificates and Transcripts

Certificates and Transcripts are issued to all students who pass all modules and receive awards.

Rescinding Awards

In exceptional circumstances, Academic Board may rescind an award, for example as a result of academic misconduct confirmed after the award was made.

Concerns and Complaints

The University is committed to valuing and learning from concerns and complaints. See the Concerns and Complaints Procedure for more details

SECTION 5 Student Resources

Part 1 Birmingham City University Resources

Birmingham City University Network

The Information and Communications Technology team is responsible for the data network, email and access to the Internet. To be able to access these you require a Network ID and password. These will be issued to you before or soon after you enrol. When you have access to the network you will have a personal email address (account) available to you. This email address will be used by the University to communicate useful and official information. You will also need your password to make use of and access the online learning facilities, including Moodle (see below).

You can access this email address from anywhere on the internet at <http://owa.bcu.ac.uk> . You should check this email account on a frequent basis.

Moodle

Moodle is a Virtual Learning Environment for all University students and staff and is a great place to look for information to help you with your programme. Not only are there useful links to key resources and websites, but it also brings together different forms of e-learning to enhance your learning experience. This includes quizzes, forums that enable you to ask tutors questions or to share experiences with fellow students as well as glossaries to explain complex terms. Other features include blogs which are personal spaces that allow you to reflect upon your own learning privately; Wikis which allow you to work collaboratively with other students and workshops which allow students to review each other's work.

Section 7 Frequently Asked Questions

What if I want to change or leave my course?

If you think you want to leave your course, it's a good idea to talk it through with your Personal Tutor or Programme Director before making any final decisions. They can discuss your options with you. It is important that if you intend to withdraw from your course after enrolment you inform your Programme Director. You should state in writing that you wish to withdraw, and you should indicate your last date of attendance.

Students who do not respond to communications from the University or from GSTM, or for whom there is evidence of no participation during a continuous period of one month, are sent a letter requesting them to attend a meeting with the programme manager. If there is no response, or a response that indicates that the student is not participating on the enrolled programme, the student will be withdrawn and a letter sent to him/her to confirm this action.

What if I want to take some time out from the course?

Taking time out is called 'an interruption of study', which is an approved leave of absence from all study and may be taken for a number of reasons e.g. health, financial, academic or personal. If you're thinking about interrupting, you should talk to Personal Tutor or Programme Director first before completing the necessary paperwork. It is your responsibility to inform the University if you intend to interrupt your study.

How do I make a complaint?

If you're unhappy about any aspects of your experience as a Birmingham City University student, we want to know about it so talk to your Personal Tutor or Programme Director. In many cases, they will be the best person to help you but if they are unable to resolve matters for you, you may need to refer to the University's formal complaints procedure (available on the University website).

What should I do if I change my name during my time at University?

If you change your name during your studies and would like your new name to be used on your University records and award certificates, you must make a formal request to your Programme Director. You must make the request before you finish your course. No changes can be made to your student record after the final examination board for your course has met. You must provide evidence of your change of name.

Acceptable forms of evidence are:

- Passport
- Marriage certificate
- Birth certificate (original birth certificate issued within 12 months of birth)
- Divorce decree absolute.

Please note that your student number will remain the same throughout your course, even if you change your name.
